Q&A FOR THE COMFORTWAVE MODEL S10

How much do your tables cost?

The ComfortWave costs $2,899 plus shipping and sales tax where required.

How long does it take to get a table?

You will receive your table within two weeks.

How does the table get to my house?

The tables are shipped from the factory directly to your home by truck.

Is the table hard to assemble?

No. The table comes assembled. You attach the foot rest and fill it with water. The instructions that come with the table are well written and include pictures.

What is the warranty on the table?

One year factory parts warranty. If a part stops working during this time, just call 800-330-7260 and we will fix or replace the defective part free of charge. The tables have been designed so that anyone that can use a screwdriver can fix them.

What are the electrical requirements?

115 volt, 13 amps (The tables will work on a standard 15 amp circuit but they should be on a dedicated 20 amp circuit.)

How do I prepare for the table arriving?

Find a place in your home that has enough power for the table and buy 21 gallons of distilled water. That's it.

What does it cost to operate the table?

About $8 to $12 a month. You should plug the cord into a wall outlet and leave it plugged in. This ensures the water remains heated and ready for your next use. The heater turns on and off automatically. When the heater is on, it draws the same power as one 150 watt light bulb. When you turn on the timer, the table draws 13 amps of power or about 1560 watts. If you pay .10¢ per kilowatt hour, that means it costs .16¢ for every hour the table is running. A typical 15 minute session would only cost .04¢.

Is the ComfortWave S10 the same as the Pro S10 model?

The ComfortWave has all the power and features of the commercial Pro S10 model. Since you won't be running your table as often as a business, you don't need the internal radiator so this is the only part that is different.

Are the tables safe for everyone to use?

The tables provide a warm water massage so they are safe for nearly everyone to use. In general, people with heart or circulatory problems; phlebitis; skin infections or contagious diseases should get their doctor's approval prior to using it. If you have questions, just ask your doctor.

Is there a limit to the size of the person that can use the table?

The weight limit is 350 pounds.

Do you ever have to change the water?

The water in the mattress doesn't need to be changed but because of evaporation, you will need to add water periodically.

What maintenance is required?

All you need to do is add a water conditioner called Clar-Lub every 4 months, top off any evaporated water, and wipe off the table as needed. Clar-Lub is available from Sidmar. You simply pour it into the water. It fights bacteria in the water and reduces particle build up inside the pump and jet system. Each shipment costs $9.95 plus postage. That's only $30 plus postage a year for maintenance.

What kind of payments do you take?

This answer can vary based on who you are buying the table from so it is best to ask them. Most of the time they will take cash, checks, or credit cards. You could also get a loan from your bank.

Will my insurance pay for the table?

Most insurance carriers will not pay for the table. If you want to try, you will have to work with your doctor and insurance company.
